REAR MY OLD HOME IN ORIO. How off in childhood's happy days With gay delight. With gay delight, I've looked upon thy pearly waves. Finaling and bright. Lengting, aptaching, horrying on,

To me then wert an Amazon: Thus in my childish fracy, I Made thee the gentlest mostly the sky. But sad the thoughts securring now, The years have passed;
And furrous deep upon my basse, Have come at last.

Ah! sad the thought beneath thy ware, A brother found an early grave ; The many years have paleed away, To nie it seems but yester.lay,

Three thirty years shall fade away,
If life doth last, And ever in my memory.

That dwell the past.

My childhood's wild and wayward years. Mingled with happiness and tearn And youth's aspirer, and loves regrets, I never-never can forget. But youth's unbeeded joyous hours Fled swiftly by. E'en as thy waves to Erie's shore

I bathed me in thy waters clear; And oft, thy flowery banks I trod.

SHE HAS CONE.

And soon in manhood's freshest years,

She has gode from our midst, Line a height, glowing flower, Out downers it fixed half its sine, But we know she blooms in the heaven! Of God in the heavenly clime. [bowe Letus hope that also stands

Awaiting the angels to row us n'ar To the resima of God and the bleat And when we have passed

The dark flowing tide, That chas on eternity to shore, She will tend us up to the Manter's side, To dwell with him evermore. HARRY.
